Happy Retirement
Chaplain Robert Duvall and K-9 Kepi!

On May 28, first responders recognized the service of Chaplain Robert Duvall who began volunteering with Winters in September of 2013.

Robert has been a great asset to our first responders and our community, we wish him joy in his retirement.

Chaplain Robert Duvall served as the handler for the Chaplain/ Crisis Intervention Team for the Winters Public Safety Crisis Intervention Team. He began his career in the 1980s as a Paramedic for the City of Richmond, CA. He retired in 2012 from the Contra Costa County Sheriff Office. In over 20 years in Public Safety, he saw first-hand the struggle of first responders to maintain their emotional, mental, and overall wellbeing. He decided that there needed to be a resource available to first responders, applied for, and received a specially trained canine. K-9 Kepi and Chaplain Robert Duvall went into service January 1, 2016 as a State Certified Crisis Intervention Team.

K-9 Kepi was specifically paired with Chaplain Duvall due to her ability to sense emotional stress, a talent that was heightened during her three week training course. She has been trained to provide both active (moving to be touched) and passive (sitting still) emotional support.

The team often was dispatched to assist with calls that have a traumatic component. Examples of calls included death notifications, serious traffic collisions, assaults, homicides, and crimes involving children. The Team's unique combination of Chaplaincy and Crisis Intervention provided much needed support for our first responders and our communities.

Happy Retirement Robert and Kepi!
